The Bravest

Mark your calendar again for our next Fish Fry, March 6th. We will be serving the same as we always have with all-you-can eat fish, baked beans, baked potatoes, and coleslaw. As mentioned before we are looking at putting the money raised by this event towards a new gear washer for the station. Washing of the fireman clothing/turn out gear, helps prolong the uniforms life and also improves the safety for the fireman. We hope to see you there. We always enjoy spending time talking with you and serving you.

half of the southwest quarter of Section 28 and the east half of the southeast quarter of Section 29 in Township 84 N, Range 5 W, 5th P.M., Linn Co., Iowa." It was entirely south of the creek; Mill Street (still its name today) was the northernmost thoroughfare.

The erroneous claim that Springville's original name was Brown might have resulted from a misreading of the 1911 Linn County History, which states, "In 1842 the first post office was established in the township known as Brown." The next sentence is clear: "It was the third post office in (Linn) county and was known as Springville." The first postmaster was Isaac Butler.

Following are biographical sketches of the pioneers who turned an early settlement called Springville into a town of the same name.

Born in Ohio, Joseph Samuel Butler was the son of Isaac and first wife, Clarissa Sargent Butler. Joseph came to Springville in 1840 at age 18 and lived here the rest of his life, except four years in Anamosa. He married Mariah (also spelled Maria) L. Reneau in 1854. They had three sons, lost one in infancy and another at 19. Joseph farmed south of town, later going into the grain, stock and dressed hog trade, followed by the mortgage and loan business. In 1878, he founded the Exchange Bank. He died in Springville Dec. 31, 1898, at 77. Butler Park is named for him.

Hosea White Jr. was a descendant of William White, who arrived on the Mayflower. A native of Stanstead, Quebec (near the Vermont border), was trained as a shoemaker. He married Mary Hudson in 1841 in Eaton, Preble County, Ohio. In 1842 they moved to Lee County, Iowa, where Mary died, leaving two little sons. Hosea then married Elizabeth Green, and came to Springville in April 1849. They had nine sons. Hosea farmed two miles east of town until 1880, when he retired and moved to 602 First Ave. (the house still stands). At age 81, he died there Jan. 23, 1901.

Moses Pryor Winans a native of Miami County, Ohio, where he married Susan Simmons in 1828. They had five sons and four daughters. In 1853, the Winans family and Susan's mother moved to Springville. Moses was postmaster from July 1854 to November 1856. Between 1855 and 1863, he and his son Hiram operated a steam sawmill, first in Brown Township and then in Linn Township. All five of the Winans sons fought for the Union in the Civil War. Moses died in Springville Aug. 23, 1871, at 63. His widow moved to Santa Ana, Calif., and died there in 1900.

John P. Hoffman was born in Milton, Union County, Pa. As a young man, he taught school in Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. In 1849, he went to California and mined gold in Sonora, Weaverville, and Placerville. Returning to the Midwest via Panama in 1851, John opened a store first at Lena, in northern Illinois, and one in 1855 in Springville. In 1856 he married a school teacher, Jane Bertha Kirkwood, and in 1860 they moved to California. Of their seven daughters; one died in infancy. A rancher and businessman, John died Feb. 6, 1903, at Ukiah, Mendocino County, Calif. He was 72.

Springville Historic Anniversary

On Monday, March 24, 1856, the plat of Springville was "filed for record . . . and duly recorded" by N. M. Day, recorder of Linn County, Iowa. Aaron P. Risley, acting justice of the peace, certified that "Moses P. Winans and Susan Winans, J. S. Butler and Mariah Butler, Hosea White and Elizabeth White, and J. P. Hoffman, to me personally known" were owners of the plat on which the town was located.

Two days earlier, Samuel W. Durham of Marion had made the survey. The legal description was "the west train blocking the sidewalk, the train moved. Butler's lower left leg and ankle were crushed. After immediate medical attention, he returned to Iowa, where his leg was amputated below the knee Sept. 12, 1877. The record is silent on who performed the surgery; possibly it was Springville's Dr. John S. Love. Butler was then confined to his home for eight months while he recuperated.

Historical Society to Meet March 11

THIRTEEN FACTS ABOUT FRIDAY THE 13TH!

1. In the U.S., between $8-900 million in revenue is lost to businesses every year on Friday the 13ths as people are afraid to travel, shop, or even go to work.
2. Months that start with Sunday will have a Friday the 13th.
3. Every year has at least one Friday the 13th, but no more than three.
4. Fridays are the day most likely to be the 13th.
5. Although the number 13 and Fridays were considered unlucky independently for centuries, the origins of Friday 13th are unknown. This specific fear didn't pop up until the 19th century.
6. On Friday, October 13, 1307, hundreds of the Knights Templar were arrested in France, long before Friday and 13 were considered a bad combination. Dan Brown's book The Da Vinci Code popularized this connection to the superstition.
7. Fear of Friday the 13th is called paraskevidekatriaphobia.
8. In 1882, Civil War vet Captain William Fowler founded The Thirteen Club to dispel the myth that 13 is a bad number. Their first meeting was held Friday, January 13, at 7:13 p.m. The group of 13 walked under a ladder, then spilled some salt without throwing it over their shoulder.
9. Part of the fear of thirteen comes from a belief that if thirteen people eat together, one of the diners will die. This superstition is tied to Last Supper and an old Norse myth.
10. In Spanish speaking countries and Greece, Tuesday the 13th is considered unlucky.
11. Although less people go out on Friday the 13th in English speaking countries, it's typically more safe than other Fridays as people are driving more carefully.
12. The earliest known reference to Friday the 13th as unlucky comes from a 1869 biography of Gioachino Rossini, who died on a Friday the 13th.
13. Friday the 13th will occur three times in 2015, in February, March, and November. The next time it will happen three times in one year will be 202

SPRINGVILLE COMMUNITY SCHOOLS FACILITIES UPDATE

This past November, Springville CSD invited an independent group in to do a brief study of our facilities and provide feedback as well as hold community meetings to gather input from our stakeholders. These meetings were held during the months of January and February. We want to thank all of you who attended these meetings and for sharing your thoughts! During the February 16th Board Meeting, Duane Van Hemert and Sam Harding, from Iowa School Construction Planning Services (ISCPS) shared their unbiased assessment of the facilities and the various options that they had considered. Based on a variety of data that were consulted, along with their own assessment, they have made the recommendation to bring the student body into one, K-12, building by adding additional classroom space to the secondary building. To learn more about their recommendations the Board and Administration have asked Duane and Sam to share their final report and recommendations during a third community meeting. This will also be an opportunity for anyone to ask questions that they may have. Please stay tuned for further information about the date and time. The board will need to consider the recommendations based on the data given through this process and hold further discussions on how to proceed in addressing the district's facility needs.

Superintendent of Springville Community School District

A Good Story

Hours after Pearl Harbor was bombed on December 7, 1941, the Secret Service found themselves in a bind. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was to give his Day of Infamy speech to Congress on Tuesday, and although the trip from the White House to Capitol Hill was short, agents weren't sure how to transport him safely. At the time, Federal Law prohibited buying any cars that cost more than $750, so they would have to get clearance from Congress to do that, and nobody had time for that. One of the Secret Service members, however, discovered that the US Treasury had seized the bulletproof car that mobster Al Capone owned when he was sent to jail in 1931. They cleaned it, made sure it was running perfectly, and had it ready for the President the next day.

Al Capone's 1928 Cadillac V-8 "Al Capone" Town Sedan Became the President's Limo on December 1941. Mechanics are said to have cleaned and checked each feature of the Caddy well into the night of December 7th, to make sure that it would run properly the next day for the Commander in Chief. And run properly it did. It had been painted black and green to look identical to Chicago's police cars at the time. To top it off, the gangster's 1928 Cadillac Town Sedan had 3,000 pounds of armor and inch-thick bulletproof windows.
